

SOCIETY

TODAY'S EVENTS.

Mrs. Charles S. Vadner will entertain this afternoon with a bridge tea given at her suburban home in honor of Miss Stella Fabian.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment to be given for the children of the free kindergarten will take place this morning under the auspices of the board of directors in the amusement hall, corner First South and Eighth West streets, at 10 o'clock.

Miss Harriet Holley will entertain fifty of her girl friends this afternoon at a bridge tea given at her home, 82 J street.

The second dance in the series of assemblies, which took place last evening in the Odeon, was one of the most delightful and brilliant social functions ever given in the large dancing hall, and also successfully ushered in the gala holiday season. The hall was decorated in holiday effect with banks of palms and immense bunches of holly and holly evergreen, with the lights shaded in artistic effect in shades of red.

The south end of the hall was transformed into a luxurious drawing room with the aid of oriental rugs, rich draperies, couches and easy chairs. Here card tables were placed for the convenience of those who did not care to participate in the dancing. Cozy corners were also attractively arranged in the northeast and northwest corners, where punch tables decked with holly were liberally patronized during the evening.

The musical program for the dances was carefully chosen and of unusual excellence, and a pleasing innovation was the presence of a full brass band stationed at one end of the hall, which played during the intervals of the dances.

An elaborate supper was served in the supper rooms before the Christmas decorations were effectively used with a profusion of American Beauty roses, red carnations and ferns.

The event was particularly notable by the presence of a large number of girls and college boys who have returned to their homes in the city to spend the Christmas vacation, their bright faces adding not a little to the general cheerfulness of the occasion. The elegant costumes worn by the women and girls present were the subject of much favorable comment.

The patronesses of the affair were Mrs. Heber M. Wells, Mrs. Edward S. Perry, Mrs. E. O. Howard, Mrs. Benner X. Smith, Mrs. William H. Reid and Mrs. Union Y. Worthington. The arrangements and details of the affair being in the hands of Charles W. Stimpson.

The home of Judge and Mrs. J. A. Marshall was the scene of a notable gathering of young people last evening, when, preceding the assembly, the Misses Mary and Carey Marshall entertained thirty of their young friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman and Miss Dorothy Chapman spent yesterday in Salt Lake with Mr. and Mrs.

THE DAILY PATTERN

LADIES' COSTUME.

For Semi-Princess effect or to be made with separate waist and skirt, this model is well adapted. The round yoke outline is becoming to most figures, while the deep shoulder tucks give fullness of breadth. The cap sleeve is finished with a group of tucks. The skirt may be made in panel back or an inverted plait. The tucker may be of lawn, net or contrast material, and the dress of velvet, silk or satin, or any of the woven fabrics or suitings now in vogue. The Waist Pattern is cut in six sizes: Thirty-two, thirty-four, thirty-six, thirty-eight, forty, forty-two inches bust measure, and the skirt in five sizes: Twenty-four, twenty-six, twenty-eight, thirty, thirty-two inches waist measure. It requires two and one-half yards for the blouse and one and three-fourths yards for the tucker of twenty-seven inch material for the thirty-six inch size. The skirt requires five and one-eighth yards of thirty-six or forty-four inch material for the twenty-four inch size. This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents for each pattern in silver or stamps.

ANOTHER RECORD MADE

BY LOCAL POSTOFFICE

While the postoffice department of Salt Lake broke the record Monday in the handling of the Christmas rush of mail, even Monday's figures were eclipsed on Tuesday, but there was a falling off on Wednesday.

On Tuesday the force handled 626 sacks of ordinary mail and 121 pouches of registered mail. Stamp sales amounted to $2,409.16, an increase of $191.25 over the highest mark during 1909.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE OPENS

IN Y. W. C. A. ROOMS

The Woman's exchange opened in the Y. W. C. A. rooms in the Hooper-Eldredge building yesterday and was conducted most successfully during the day.

An extensive variety of Christmas things, in the form of dolls, toys and fancy work, home-cooked edibles, canned fruits and such like were displayed, and when the exchange closed last night all had been disposed of. A new supply of material will be on hand today.

INJURED BY SNOWBLOW.

R. L. Cohen, an employee of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad company at Ogden, was run down by a snowplow on the company's lines north of Salt Lake early yesterday morning, sustaining injuries.

He was removed to St. Mark's hospital, where he was attended by Dr. J. F. Critchlow. The attending physician states that Cohen received a severe shaking up, though he was not seriously injured.
